Definition 3

1. An inference system is refutation sound, if the empty clause [] (or an unsatisfiable clause in general) is derived only from an unsatisfiable set of clauses.

2. An inference system is refutation complete if the empty clause [] is derivable from every unsatisfiable set of clauses.